

An abstract landscape painting. At the top, a large, textured orange and red sun or moon is partially obscured by two teal, mountain-like shapes. Below these, a broad, textured band of yellow and green suggests a sky or distant land. A dark, jagged, blue-black silhouette of a mountain range dominates the middle ground. The bottom of the image features horizontal bands of light blue, white, and yellow, resembling a body of water or a misty plain. The overall style is expressive, with visible brushstrokes and a rich, saturated color palette.
