

A stylized, layered landscape illustration. The background consists of several horizontal bands of color: a light blue sky at the top, a white semi-circle representing a moon or sun, a dark blue band, a reddish-brown band, and a light blue band. A winding white path leads from the bottom left towards the center. In the foreground, there are layers of orange, brown, and dark brown, suggesting a sandy or rocky terrain. The overall style is minimalist and modern.
