

The image features a stylized outline of the state of Tennessee. The interior of the outline is filled with a series of overlapping, wavy horizontal bands of color. The top of the state is a dark blue, which transitions through various shades of blue and light blue, eventually fading into a pale green at the bottom. In the center of the state, the words "they" and "them" are written in a white, cursive script. The word "they" is positioned above "them", and both words have a subtle purple shadow cast to their right, giving them a three-dimensional appearance.

*they
them*