

A Halloween-themed illustration featuring a black silhouette of a vampire with a cape, standing on a dark, rocky outcrop. The vampire is positioned in the center, facing away from the viewer towards a large, bright yellow full moon. The background is a deep red, textured sky with several black bat silhouettes in flight. To the right, a dark, gothic-style castle with a tall spire is visible. Bare, black tree branches are scattered across the scene. The entire illustration is framed within a black, irregular shape that resembles a stylized letter 'T' or a decorative border.
